

A BILL

To abolish the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, repeal the provisions of law establishing the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Pentagon Force Protection Agency Abolition Act of 2026”.

SECTION 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) The Pentagon Force Protection Agency (PFPA), a component of the Department of Defense, provides law enforcement and security for the Pentagon and other Department of Defense facilities in the National Capital Region.

(2) By operating a police force for permanent standing forces, the PFPA acts contrary to Article I, Section 8, Clause 12, which empowers Congress “To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years,” a limit reflecting the Founders’ settled distrust of standing armies in time of peace, as expressed in Federalist No. 41 and in the Anti-Federalist essays of Brutus.

(3) The functions of the PFPA are not “necessary and proper for carrying into Execution” any power vested by the Constitution in the Government of the United States and therefore find no support in Article I, Section 8, Clause 18, which Madison in Federalist No. 44 described as a means of executing powers already granted rather than a source of new ones, as the Anti-Federalist writer Brutus warned in his first essay of 1787 it would otherwise become.

(4) In carrying out its functions, the PFPA disregards the Ninth Amendment, which provides that “The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people,” including the right of the people to order their own lives, property, and affairs free of federal direction in matters the Constitution does not commit to the Federal Government.

(5) The Constitution delegates to the United States no power over policing. By operating a police force for permanent standing forces, the PFPA exercises powers that the Tenth Amendment reserves “to the States respectively, or to the people,” contrary to Federalist No. 45, in which Madison described the powers delegated to the Federal Government as “few and defined” and those remaining in the States as “numerous and indefinite.”

(6) The Declaration of Independence affirms that governments are instituted to secure the unalienable rights of the people and derive “their just powers from the consent of the governed,” and it charged the Crown with having “erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.” The PFPA perpetuates the centralized administration the Declaration condemned. The Declaration likewise condemned keeping “among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures” and the effort “to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.”

(7) Abolishing the Pentagon Force Protection Agency and repealing the provisions of law establishing it will reduce the size and cost of the Federal Government, return to the States and to the people the powers the Constitution reserves to them, and restore the constitutional principles of limited government and enumerated powers.

SECTION 3. ABOLITION OF THE PENTAGON FORCE PROTECTION AGENCY.

(a) In General.—The Pentagon Force Protection Agency, a component of the Department of Defense, is hereby abolished effective immediately following the enactment of this Act.

(b) Wind-Down Operations.—Immediately following the enactment of this Act, the President shall designate an appropriate official to expeditiously wind down the operations of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, ceasing all functions, none of which shall be transferred to any other department or agency of the Federal Government.

(c) Transfer of Assets and Liabilities.—All assets, liabilities, contracts, property, and records of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency shall be transferred to the designated official under subsection (b) for appropriate disposition.

(d) Employee Transition.—Employees of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency shall be offered opportunities for reassignment within the federal government or provided with severance and retraining assistance as prescribed by existing federal law.

SECTION 4. REPEAL OF PROVISIONS OF LAW ESTABLISHING THE PENTAGON FORCE PROTECTION AGENCY.

(a) In General.—The provisions of law establishing the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, and any provision of law vesting functions in the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, are hereby repealed.

(b) Conforming Amendments.—The United States Code and all other relevant Federal laws are amended by—

(1) striking all references to the Pentagon Force Protection Agency and to any office, officer, or function established in or vested in the Pentagon Force Protection Agency;

(2) terminating every function of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, no part of which shall be reassigned to any other department or agency of the Federal Government; and

(3) making such other conforming changes as necessary to reflect the repeal and the permanent abolition of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency.

(c) Effective Date.—The repeal under this section shall take effect immediately following the enactment of this Act.

SECTION 5. TRANSITION PROVISIONS.

(a) No Restoration of Prior Structures.—No element of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency shall revert to its organizational structure as it existed prior to the establishment of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency, and no function of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency shall be restored to any predecessor department, agency, or office.

(b) Permanent Abolition.—No department, agency, office, or other entity shall be established to carry out the functions of the Pentagon Force Protection Agency abolished by this Act.

SECTION 6. SEVERABILITY.

If any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the Act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.
