

A BILL

To abolish Homeland Security Investigations, repeal the provisions of law establishing Homeland Security Investigations, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Homeland Security Investigations Abolition Act of 2026”.

SECTION 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

- (1) Homeland Security Investigations (HSI), a component of the United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement, Department of Homeland Security, investigates cross-border crime, including customs, trade, cyber, financial, and smuggling offenses.
- (2) By conducting broad domestic criminal investigations, the HSI regulates activities that are local and intrastate in character, exceeding the power granted in Article I, Section 8, Clause 3 “To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes,” a power that, as understood at ratification, reaches trade and exchange across State lines and not production, local activity, or the internal affairs of the States.
- (3) The functions of the HSI are not “necessary and proper for carrying into Execution” any power vested by the Constitution in the Government of the United States and therefore find no support in Article I, Section 8, Clause 18, which Madison in Federalist No. 44 described as a means of executing powers already granted rather than a source of new ones, as the Anti-Federalist writer Brutus warned in his first essay of 1787 it would otherwise become.
- (4) By conducting searches and data collection on Americans, the HSI infringes the Fourth Amendment’s protection of “the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures,” and its requirement that no warrants shall issue “but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.”
- (5) By seizing property through forfeiture, the HSI violates the Takings Clause of the Fifth Amendment, which provides that private property shall not “be taken for public use, without just compensation”.
- (6) By imposing forfeitures disproportionate to any offense, the HSI subjects Americans to penalties and forfeitures that may be grossly disproportionate to any offense, contrary to the Eighth Amendment’s command that excessive fines shall not be “imposed.”

(7) In carrying out its functions, the HSI disregards the Ninth Amendment, which provides that “The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people,” including the right of the people to order their own lives, property, and affairs free of federal direction in matters the Constitution does not commit to the Federal Government.

(8) The Constitution delegates to the United States no power over general police powers and local crime. By conducting broad domestic criminal investigations, the HSI exercises powers that the Tenth Amendment reserves “to the States respectively, or to the people,” contrary to Federalist No. 45, in which Madison described the powers delegated to the Federal Government as “few and defined” and those remaining in the States as “numerous and indefinite.”

(9) The Declaration of Independence affirms that governments are instituted to secure the unalienable rights of the people and derive “their just powers from the consent of the governed,” and it charged the Crown with having “erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.” The HSI perpetuates the centralized administration the Declaration condemned.

(10) Abolishing Homeland Security Investigations and repealing the provisions of law establishing it will reduce the size and cost of the Federal Government, return to the States and to the people the powers the Constitution reserves to them, and restore the constitutional principles of limited government and enumerated powers.

SECTION 3. ABOLITION OF HOMELAND SECURITY INVESTIGATIONS.

SECTION 5. TRANSITION PROVISIONS.

(b) Permanent Abolition.—No department, agency, office, or other entity shall be established to carry out the functions of Homeland Security Investigations abolished by this Act.
